

Promoting History and the Arts in the North End District of Superior

The Citizens of Northwest Wisconsin request:

- Support for the local history and arts.

We would like to arrange a meeting with the Wisconsin State Historical Society to discuss exhibits and collections. Also, we are very interested in meeting with the Wisconsin Arts Board to discuss other grants that may be available for our History Theatre along with the Department of Tourism.

We currently are involved in the North End Arts Council which has developed during the last few years. This group has included the Douglas County Historical Society because of its location in the North End, our History Theatre, and our creating Superior's first outdoor mural of the historic Palace Theatre. Arts in the North End is a new movement. Our mission statement is:

- "Art for everyone, everyday. To create an environment for the arts to flourish and strengthen our communities".

The Douglas County Historical Society has discovered a unique educational tool to teach history through theatre. Through a grant from the Duluth Superior Community Foundation we will hire local writers, directors and stage technicians to kick off our first season. In the coming year we will be producing a vaudeville and a play based on local history. The success of our USO Canteen Radio Show proved a real need for Superior's first History Theatre.

Our future goal is to offer our stage to other performing artists and to offer a venue for a creative outlet. To this effort we want to extend this invitation to artists of other disciplines, such as photography, sculpture, textile, glass and painting.
